
Newborn Photography Melbourne

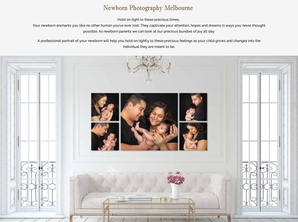
Hold on tight to these precious times...
Your newborn enchants you like no other human you've ever met. They captivate your attention, hopes and dreams in ways you never thought possible. As newborn parents we can look at our precious bundle of joy all day.

A professional portrait of your newborn will help you hold on tightly to these precious feelings as your child grows and changes into the individual they are meant to be.



Trying to get a four-year-old girl and a six-month-old puppy to sit still is near impossible. Yet Jade retained her sense of humour, stayed nimble on her feet, and gave us much time needed to capture the bond between my mischievous daughter and her equally naughty Samoyed.

You can never repeat the past, and kids and dogs grow so quickly, so I am grateful when I look at Judes portraits of Yasmine and Pasha that we've preserved this time in their lives.

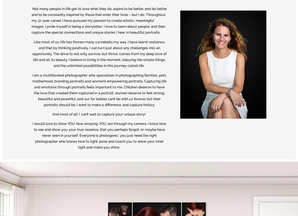
Hi, I am Jade, Studio Owner & Portrait Artist



Not many people in life get to love what they do, aspire to be better, and do better, and to be constantly inspired by those that enter their lives - but I do. Throughout my life, I've had the privilege of meeting and photographing the most beautiful little images. Little myself I'd being a little one, I love to learn about people, and I love to capture the special connections and unique stories I hear in beautiful portraits.

Like most of us, life has thrown many curveballs my way. I have been resilience, and that by thinking positively, I can turn just about any challenges into an opportunity. The drive to not only survive, but thrive, comes from my deep love of life and all its beauty. I believe in living in the moment, enjoying the simple things, and the unlimited possibilities in this journey called life.

I am a multifaceted photographer who specialises in photographing families, pets, motherhood, branding portraits and women's empowering portraits. Capturing life and emotions through portraits feels important to me. Children deserve to have the love that created them captured in a portrait, women deserve to feel strong, beautiful and powerful, and our babies cant be with us forever but their portraits should be. I want to make a difference, and capture history.

And most of all, I cant wait to capture your unique story!

I would love to show YOU, how amazing YOU and through my camera, I know how to see and show you your true essence, that you perhaps forget, or maybe have never seen in yourself. Everyone is photogenic, you just need the right photographer who knows how to light, pose and coach you to show your inner light and make you shine.

Tips to prepare for your newborn photography shoot

During our planning consultation we will go over everything that is involved and discuss your wardrobe preferences. Make sure your baby is well rested and fed before. Bring enough wraps in case of accidents, and to keep your baby warm during a feed. I will guide you all through a mix of poses where we focus on the unique bond between everyone involved. If you have proud and excited grandparents who would love to be part of this experience, they are more than welcome to join in the fun.

FAQ Newborn Photography Session

How old should my baby be for our newborn photography session?

Most photographers advise booking your newborn photography session in the last trimester. However, I find it more important that you, your partner and your little one are ready, and that bits will be there for everyone. If, never forget both times I gave birth, nothing went as planned and there was no way I could have done a photoshoot a days later. Every story of becoming a parent is different, sometimes it goes really well and we can do your photoshoot when your baby is a week old, and sometimes you need a little more time and that is totally fine too. So please don't stress, the best part of your little baby is that they look adorable for many years to come. We will arrange everything before your big day, so once your baby is born, all we have to do is finalise your session date.

How long do newborn sessions typically run?

This is a very difficult question to answer because every baby is different! I've had newborn sessions where the baby slept most of the time, didn't need a drink, and didn't pooh and wee all over his parents. These sessions are done in about 30 to 45 minutes. And then there are very hungry babies who want a drink after about every 2000 and in between pooh and wee their parents all over a few times. Needless to say those sessions will take much longer, and can take up to 2 hours. However whatever happens we never rush, and take all the time you need.

The Photo Studio

Our portrait studio is light, inviting, and will make you feel at ease. We have many beautiful collections of artwork on display, to help you imagine how your own collection will come to life in your home.

Recently we moved from a large commercial studio into our current luxurious and cozy home studio in Altona, Melbourne. The move was made for our clients and their fur babies, to capture portraits in a more welcoming and relaxed environment.

Our clients travel to us from all over Australia because of our personalised approach to understanding the unique story and personalities behind the portraits, which leads to stunning gallery style artwork.

There is ample free parking.

Join Our VIPS

Since Getting My Pawtraits My Portrait Studio is our VIP group for all our favourite clients to keep you up to date with our latest projects, models, cuties, behind the scenes news and giveaways!

It's a beautiful place where we focus on positivity and empowerment and to meet like-minded people.

I would love you to join in on all the fun!

NEW BOOK:
Together Apart, Life in Lockdown

When COVID-19 hit Melbourne harder than a runaway train, our lives changed – literally overnight. Together Apart gives a rare glimpse into life in lockdown, beautifully capturing the isolation, frustration, hope, humour and human need for togetherness that quickly became part of our daily lives.

What started as a conversation over the beach fence to break the solitude of lockdown has grown into a friendship and a partnership between me and my next-door neighbour, travel writer and journalist Sharon Jacobus.

Photographed, written and printed in Melbourne, Together Apart is our book-and-white coffee table book featuring 60 portraits of people in our neighbourhood.
